EUROPE NEEDS TREATY LIKE PACIFIC PACT BRITISH HOLD

Additional Guarantees Against Germany Are Sought By France

INDEMNITY PLANS

How Payments Are To Be Paid Outlined At Cannes Meeting

(Reuter's Service)

Cannes, Jan. 9.—Mr. Lloyd George and M. Briand again conferred last evening, discussing among other things Anglo-French relations. With regard to an Anglo-French Alliance, the British point of view is that what is needed is an European agreement guaranteeing peace on the lines of the Pacific pact. France seeks additionally definite guarantees against German aggression. Both sides are anxious to settle all differences with a view to the avoidance of misunderstandings in regard to reparations.

It is now proposed that Germany shall pay £35,000,000 in cash and £87,000,000 in kind, making a total of £122,000,000, that is £28,000,000 less than was originally arranged. She shall also pay £12,000,000 for the armies of occupation.

Great Britain is ready to forego £7,000,000 respecting her occupation forces. The conditions to be imposed on Germany include the collection of Customs on a gold basis, the increase of railway and postal rates and of the price of coal, restrictions on the issue of paper money, the balancing of the budget and currency reform.

SUNDAY DISCUSSIONS

Cannes, Jan. 8.—Sunday was devoted to informal conversations. The financial experts discussed the question of guarantees, also the financial commission of control in Germany, while Sir L. Worthington Evans, Sir Robert Horne and Mr. B. P. Blackett, the financial expert, conferred with certain foreign finance Ministers whose identity is jealously guarded.

British circles are satisfied with the opening conversations. The principal topic behind the scenes at the Conference is the question of a Franco-British alliance replacing the tripartite pact in the Treaty of Versailles.

Although nothing can yet be mentioned with regard thereto, it is reliably learned that discussions are actually proceeding on this subject.

PARIS GETS VIEWS

Paris, Jan. 9.—A French semi-official telegram from Cannes dealing with the Anglo-French conversations and the guarantee question says it is understood that the negotiations have chiefly in mind the realisation of an agreement mutually guaranteeing against unprovoked German aggression. It is believed that the two Powers would undertake to lend one another military, naval and aerial assistance to a minimum not yet determined, France making an effort on land and Great Britain on sea.

Belgium apparently will be asked to join in the agreement. The telegram says that with the assurance of the assistance of the British fleet, France will be able to adopt her naval building program to the new conditions.

The telegram further suggests that a related plan is now being considered for a treaty to be signed by all the Powers of Europe, engaging to abstain from aggression against their neighbors, but owing to their complexity, it may be impossible finally to conclude the agreements at the present sitting.

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Jan. 8.—A telegram from Berlin states that the negotiations between the parties in regard to the financial program have been broken off, owing to the attitude of the Socialists.

FRANCE'S STAND DEFENDED BY HER FORMER PREMIER

(Mr. Rene Viviani, former French Premier and Minister of Justice, has raised his voice in defense of the stand being taken by the French delegates on the Submarine question. Questions he asks in the following article set forth France's position Mr. Viviani is a member of the staff of the Public Ledger service which is supplied exclusively to The China Press in China.)

By Rene Viviani, Former French Premier

(Trans-Pacific News Service Exclusive To The China Press)

Paris, January 8.—Who in the world can imagine France in the situation or in a state of mind of security corresponding to the situations of other countries?

How can England imagine French submarines capable of menacing her?

If England could fear anything from us, we too might have said that we had our fears when the question of tonnage was being discussed.

Who menaces England? Which nation has closed the ocean and why does she keep to the half million figure for capital ships? She can reply that she has distant possessions and has no intention of permitting the dismemberment of the Empire which she has created, but we too have distant colonies which, though they have not the importance of England's dominions, have interest for us.

We are twenty-eight days from Indo-China and farther from Sudan and Madagascar.

In all questions parallel to that of the submarine such as poison gas, aviation and limitation of land armaments no definite conclusions can be reached without assembling all nations whose adherence to a definite program could be demanded.

I mean by what authority should France and Italy be stripped of their right arms if other European nations which haven't great money power can arm themselves by building submarines?

Who will assist France to compel these nations to accept the desire of Washington and why in raising the submarine question do they begin with France and do not include those nations to whom the same question could be put?

TWO SHIPS HERE FROM AMERICA THIS MORNING

Two steamers from America bringing mail and passengers for this port are due to arrive today.

The Wenatchee, of the Admiral Line, is scheduled to dock at the China Merchants' Central wharf at about 11 a.m. She brings 33 cabin passengers, 509 sacks of mail and considerable general cargo for Shanghai. The Wenatchee will sail for Hongkong and Manila Thursday.

The Canadian Pacific Steamships liner Empress of Japan arrives at Woosung from Vancouver and Japan ports during the morning and the tender with incoming passengers is expected to reach the Customs jetty at 11:30 o'clock. The Empress leaves this afternoon for Hongkong direct, the tender with outgoing passengers leaving the Customs jetty at 2:30 p.m.

Russian Is Convicted For Picking Pocket Of Japanese On Tram

A Russian tailor, S. M. Gelbaum, 308 Broadway, was found guilty by Assessor Hutchison and Magistrate Li of the Mixed Court yesterday on a charge of picking the pocket of a Japanese named U. Sanada, of 38 Yuhang Road, while they were riding on a tramcar on Muirhead Road Sunday afternoon.

It was alleged by the complainant that Gelbaum took his purse, containing four twenty-cent pieces and six coppers, and handed it to an accomplice, who alighted from the car but threw the purse down and fled when pursued. Gelbaum was seized and turned over to a policeman. The accused denied taking the purse.

After the court had found the man guilty the matter was remanded for one week in order to give the police opportunity to locate the other man and to try and bring further charges.

ROCKEFELLER, JR., HOME, GIVES HIS VIEWS ON CHINA

(Reuter's Service)

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 28.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., returning here today from the dedication of the Union Medical College at Peking, endowed by the Rockefeller Foundation, expressed the opinion that China "is on the highway to national unity which will eventually solve the tangle of problems in the Far East."

"I don't pretend to have the solution to China's present predicament," he said, "but I am sure that sound orderly government will be established eventually. All Orientals are intensely interested in the armament conference.

"No country lends itself more to scientific research than China. I was impressed with the attitude of the Chinese toward our undertakings. I found enormous scope for rejuvenating a nation that had reached practically the lowest level of public health."

Chita Agents Who Burst Bombshell

In the picture above are the members of the Chita delegation whose disclosures of alleged secret agreements between Japan and France and between Japan and Siberian leaders proved a veritable sensation at Washington. While the Chita delegates maintain that the treaties they have made public are authentic documents, formal official denials of the existence of such agreements have been made both by the French and Tokio Governments.

WARSHIPS AT SHILIWEI FOR SALT REVENUE

(China Press Service)

Chinkiang, January 9.—Three Chinese men-of-war from Shanghai and one from Nanking, are anchored at Shiliwei, the big salt trans-shipment center, 20 li above Chinkiang. They have made no demonstration and the officers seem to have plenty of money.

There is much speculation as to what course the men on the warships will follow in view of the reports from Shanghai that they were to seize the salt revenue of the Hwai river and lake salt district.

Shiliwei is an important salt center as it is here that salt from Shantung and the North China coast is brought for transhipment up the Yangtsze River.

The report from Chinkiang does not account for the fourth Chinese warship to leave here last Friday. The sailing followed announcement of the officers that they must have their back salaries. The action was authorised by naval authorities here but not by the Peking Government.

Precautions were taken on the Yangtsze to protect foreign craft, as it was not known what methods the officers on the warships would follow in order to secure money to pay the men.

British Oil Man Says He's Against Government Control

(Reuter's Service)

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Sir John Cadman, former head of the Petroleum Department of the British Government, declared tonight in an address at the annual banquet of the American Petroleum Institute that he was unalterably opposed to Government control in business and took pains to clarify impressions of British activity in the oil industry.

He denied that the British Government had interests in the Royal Dutch-Shell group and flatly asserted that the control and management of these properties was held by Dutch interests. He explained that the British Government's stock control interest in the Anglo-Persian Oil Company was acquired by the British Treasury as security for financial advances covering a long-term fuel contract, made by the British Admiralty.

Regarding Mesopotamia, he asserted that the ownership of oil deposits will be assured to the Arab state as a part of the administrative arrangements under the Peace Treaty and the Mandate. Due consideration, however, would have to be given to rights secured before the war.

The renowned Baku oil fields in Russia, he said, were fast going to rack and ruin under the present form of government.

The supreme industrial search of today was for cheap power, and the ramifications of the oil industry in this regard were practically without end.

Dail Eireann Accepts Pact; De Valera Offers To Resign

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 7.—The Dail Eireann today approved the Anglo-Irish treaty by 64 votes to 57, after which Mr. de Valera tendered his resignation of the Presidency.

The deputies and the public were laboring under tense excitement when the Speaker of the Dail Eireann announced the result of the division, first in Gaelic and then in English.

The news of the acceptance of the treaty by some means flashed to the crowds outside. Great cheers arose but there was little demonstration in the chamber. Mr. de Valera rose immediately and said it would be his duty to resign but that he declared to the country and the world that until the Irish people in a regular manner had disestablished it, the Republican constitution continued.

Mr. Collins pleaded for the appointment of a united committee representing both parties to take over the machinery of government.

There were remarkable scenes in Dublin after the decision became known. Mr. Griffith and his fellow plenipotentiaries were given a tremendous reception.

LONDON GRATIFIED

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 8.—The news that the Dail Eireann had ratified the Treaty by a majority of seven was received here with deep and universal satisfaction and in Ireland with enthusiasm and tremendous relief.

Apart from the formalties, the vote completes the bargain which establishes Ireland as a free state of the British Commonwealth. The leaders of the majority have now to form a provisional government to take over various departments from the British authorities. The evacuation of the British forces is expected to begin forthwith.

The issue has been a long drawn-out battle in doubt to the last. Mr. de Valera speaking after the vote broke down completely and covered his face with his hands. The women deputies burst into tears.

Mr. de Valera has apparently not yet formally resigned though he said it would be his duty to do so. He meets his supporters today. There may still be trouble ahead though it is intimated that the Sinn Fein army discipline will be maintained.

Lenine In Speech Admits Soviet's Economic Failure

(Reuter's Service)

Riga, Latvia, Nov. 20.—Russian peasants and laborers are tired of promises of a Communist utopia, and have come to the "show me" stage, Premier Lenine said in a recent speech before a congress of Political Educational Workers, at Moscow.

The full text of this sensational speech, parts of which relating to Lenine's admissions of economic failure were cabled from Moscow at the time it was delivered, has just reached Riga, as reported by the official Moscow Pravda.

ACTION NEEDED

"There was a time," Lenine said, "when declarations, proclamations, decrees, etc., were necessary. We have had plenty of these. There was a time when it was necessary to show the people what we wanted to build. But can we continue to show and only tell the people what we want to build? No! Even the simplest laborer will then scoff at us, saying: 'You are always talking of what you want to do, but show us now what you can do. And if you can do nothing, then go to the devil!' And he will be right."

Speaking about the absence of education and the prevailing illiteracy of the Russian population, Lenine said that the very fact that a commission had to be appointed for the liquidation of illiteracy "shows, to say it as gently as possible, that we are something like half-savages. For in a civilised country it would be considered a shame to create commissions for the liquidation of illiteracy. They teach in the first place to read and write. As long as this fundamental problem is not solved, it is ridiculous to talk of a new economic policy."

TELLS NEEDS

Lenine said that Soviet laws and propaganda were good, but could not succeed until the masses of people helped the regime.

Several hundred thousand "cenoxious and useless Communists," he said, should be expelled from the party. "Russia," he continued, "should have culture which will teach us to fight red tape, corruption and bribery. Experience has shown that a politically educated state knows no bribery, whereas with us bribery is rampant."

Lenine said the Government was facing three principal foes: first Communist arrogance, second illiteracy, and third corruption and bribery.

Defendant Wins In Live Stock Suit

Judgment for the defendant was given by Judge Skinner Turner of the British Supreme Court yesterday in the case of a claim for $896.51 brought by Mr. A. M. A. Evans, of the Inshallah Dairy Company, against Mr. H. M. Bone in respect of two cows imported for the plaintiff by the defendant from Australia.

The plaintiff alleged that he ordered cows which would give 50 pounds of milk a day, but that tests showed the two animals concerned gave only 11 to 16 and 17 to 19 pounds respectively. Under cross-examination by Mr. Priestwood he stated that of the 95 head of stock in his heard the average was two gallons of milk per day.

BETRAYAL BY PEKING SETS AT NAUGHT ALL EFFORTS OF DELEGATES

China's Whole Case At Washington Jeopardised By Disclosures Direct Negotiations Have Been Going Forward Without Knowledge Of Delegates Who All Are Bitter Against Liang Shih-yi

NATION-WIDE UPRISING IS NEEDED

China's Defeat At Conference Not Chargeable To Her Delegation But To Peking Government, Is View Now Expressed At Washington

(Trans-Pacific News Service Exclusive to The China Press)

Washington, Jan. 8.—China's delegation is utterly demoralised by the disclosure that secret direct negotiations concerning Shantung have been going forward, without the knowledge of the delegates, at Peking. It is reported here that a decision unfavorable to China's aspirations already has been reached.

The members of the Chinese delegation at Washington are bitter toward Liang Shih-yi, the new Premier, including even those closely affiliated with Liang Shih-yi.

The disclosures of what has been going forward at Peking have jeopardised China's whole position at the conference and have served to bear out the contentions of those who asserted it was impossible to do anything for China because the country had no government and the delegates sent to Washington represented nobody.

It is thought here that the sole hope remaining for the Chinese people is to make a strong demonstration which will be of such scope as to tell the whole world that the Peking cabinet does not represent the nation when it expresses a desire to yield to Japan on the Shantung question.

The demonstration should make plain that the Chinese delegation in ignoring orders from Peking is giving a true presentation of the wishes of the Chinese nation in demanding a settlement of the Shantung question according to the terms originally laid down.

Adherents of the Chinese viewpoint by reason of the developments that have arisen are finding it difficult to support the country's delegates, since the delegates haven't the support of their own government. China's defeat at the Conference will not be chargeable to the Chinese delegation, but to the Peking Government, is the view in Washington.

BOTH SIDES FIRM

(Trans-Pacific News Service Exclusive To The China Press)

Washington, Jan. 8.—At another session, believed to be the final session of the Chinese and Japanese delegates, both sides remained firm in their opposing stands on the Shantung question.

Japan continues to insist that China shall accept a 15-year loan in connection with the transfer of the Shantung railway with the option of redeeming it after five years and that Japan shall name a traffic manager. The proposal entails also the arrangement of financial details of the transfer at Peking.

China is offering to pay cash, treasury notes or bonds on a basis of 12 years with the option of redeeming the whole debt after three years and with the privilege of appointing a chief engineer. Japan is explaining that it wants to hold the same status on this railway as other powers hold on other rail lines in China and asks for a preferred position by reason of special interests in Shantung and in the rail traffic of the province.

VOICES THREAT

Hanihara has asserted that if China brings up the Shantung question before the full Conference Japan will withdraw the concessions already made and will insist upon holding the railway in accordance with the terms of the Versailles treaty.

The Japanese adherents persist in the view that Peking already has yielded to the Japanese demands. The Shantung question now supersedes all other questions and makes the outstanding issue precisely like that which arose when the Versailles treaty was under discussion with the prospect of the same effect in the United States Senate, meaning that the Senate will withhold support of any agreement that will leave Shantung in the hands of the Japanese.

The whole Far Eastern discussion on the Shantung issue with all of its details is not wholly clear to the American public, but an open break growing out of blank refusal to give satisfaction to China may galvanise into being an issue that will be accepted in the public mind as another gross injustice to the Chinese.

Discussions of the Chinese and the Japanese on the Shantung question continued over three hours without any change in the stands taken being effected. The firm attitude of the Japanese is taken to mean that they are awaiting the results of the secret negotiations they know are proceeding at Peking and they are showing no disposition to compromise.

The first steps have been taken to draft the nine-power treaty, which like the four-power treaty, is to embody a "declaration of intention" of the powers toward China.

ADVISE ARMY CUTS

Washington, Jan. 8.—The Far Eastern Committee of the Conference tentatively has adopted the Underwood resolution which among other things offers the "friendly recommendation to China that immediate steps should be taken by the Chinese Government to reduce the country's military forces and expenditures for them." The resolution points out that China's present armies mean a heavy drain upon the country's resources, besides

Mexico City Paper Opposes Bull Fights

(Reuter's Service)

Mexico City, Nov. 30.—The newspaper El Universal has started a campaign against bull fighting which appears to give promise of possible success. In the belief that the present generation of grownups enjoys the sport so much that its prohibition is impossible, the newspaper is attempting to keep children away from the fights, and to that end has placed the mayor of Mexico City and the governor of the Federal District, in which Mexico City is located, on record as opposed to boys and girls witnessing the "brutal sport."

Quarter page pictures of youngsters eagerly watching the gory sights of the arena have been printed and the newspaper asks if this is the sort of environment that makes for culture and refinement.

Report Is Published On Crewdson Estate

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 9.—The late Mr. Alfred Crewdson, former head of Messrs. Horrockses, Crewdson and Company, Limited, left estate to the value of £391,000.

keeping the peace of the country unsettled.

Wellington Koo has expressed disappointment and says that the Conference has not done anything to restore the tariff in China. Mr. Underwood, replying, said the Conference could not do for China what China is unable to do for herself. He emphasised that conditions in China prohibit more positive action by the Conference which formally has approved of a tariff increase to an effective five percent, adding seventeen millions to the country's revenues and providing for a conference to be called immediately at Shanghai to fix a new schedule.

According to the program, this is to be followed by a conference to abolish likin and permit surtaxes promised in treaties of 1902 and also a surtax on luxuries, both adding twenty-nine millions revenue. The project carries with it the plan for a conference every seven years for the revision of the tariff.

Another provision holds the promise that whenever China desires the powers will hold a conference to discuss the feasibility of removing foreign troops from China.

MASS MEETING STOPPED

The mass meeting and demonstration planned by local labor organisations in protest to the alleged secret negotiations on the Shantung matter and to demand the abrogation of the Twenty-One Demands, was prevented Sunday afternoon by the Chinese police and military.

A parade through the Chinese City was held nevertheless, several hundred laborers carrying banners urging the "salvation of the country" and bearing other similar devices. Speeches also were made after the procession had wound its way from the Wukuinying, near the South station, where the meeting was to have been held, to the Hsin Wu Tai. Handbills were distributed.

It is announced that labor organisations will meet again this afternoon to discuss a further demonstration.

HO WARNS PEKING

As a result of this and other demonstrations held here recently, Defense Commissioner Ho Feng-ling on Sunday evening despatched a lengthy telegram to the Peking Government declaring that public feeling is running high here and urging that the Government take cognisance of the fact.

The telegram reads:

"The people here are paying close attention to the Pacific Conference. The reports in the press of a wire from David Yui and Mon-ling Chang, the people's delegates at Washington, alleging that the Peking Government had undertaken direct negotiations and had accepted a Japanese loan for the Railway redemption, etc., have created great excitement.

"Last night the Chambers of Commerce, the Kiangsu Educational Association, and the Amalgamated Association of Street Unions held a meeting and decided to protest against the negotiations, to devise means to secure funds for the redemption of the Kiaochow-Tsinan Railway, and to ignore the $90,000,000 salt loan.

"The same evening they sent out telegrams condemning the government for the Japanese loan and for the reinstatement of Tsao and Lu.

"TRULY PATRIOTIC"

"Today the laborers and merchants organised a demonstration at which a large crowd assembled and became so excited it was impossible to stop the meeting. The police were turned out and succeeded in restoring order. The disturbance is truly patriotic in character.

"If the government does not clearly proclaim its policy, rejecting the Japanese demands, the trouble may spread and the excitement may develop into a crisis.

"Shanghai is an asylum for rebels and in view of the uneasiness of the people I can imagine the dangerous results which a rejection of the people's wishes will entail. I hope you will take note of the above and will wire to the delegates in America to remain firm. A proverb says: The people are likened to water by nature. It carries a boat but may also overturn it. You are requested therefore to have the deepest regard for the pople's wishes."

CANTON STATEMENT

According to news from Canton, Drs. David, Z. T. Yui and Monlin Chiang, representing the people of China, are delivering speeches in New York to the effect that (1) the Peking Government will soon be insolvent under the influence of Chang Tso-lin, (2) that Central China has been under the influence of Wu Pei-fu, who has lost the confidence of the people through decieving them be promises of self government, and, (3) that the only organisation giving hope for China's reconstruction is the Southern Government at Canton.

Three Buildings Damaged By Fire On Chekiang Road

Fire partially destroyed three buildings on Chekiang Road early last evening, but was checked after making a good start by the department and a bad blaze was prevented.

The report of the outbreak was made to Sinza station by one of the department's men who happened to be passing the place and in consequence of this late alarm the firemen found No. 473 North Chekiang Road, a paper shop with a sheet of flame driving out of the upper floors, fanned by the high wind. The building next door was also afire on the first floor and it was with difficulty that a start was made but jets were quickly got to work and the danger stopped. The damage was all confined to the upper floors of the buildings affected—Nos. 471, 472 and 473.

An alarm was received at 7:30 p.m. that wires had fused at a foreign residence in Markham Road and a machine was despatched from Sinza. There was no damage other than the fusing of the wires.

Japan Must Keep Up Martial Spirit Says War Chief

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger—Exclusive To The China Press)

Tokio, Jan. 8.—Lieutenant-General Yamanashi, minister of war, in a statement issued to the press today, decries the tendency of politicians in their anxiety to remove the stain of militarism from Japan's escutcheon to belittle "the martial spirit of Japan," which was essential to the peaceful expansion of the nation as it is in wartime.

"It is wrong to consider the martial spirit incompatible with limitation of armaments," he says. "If the nation is to advance or even hold its own in the industrial competition which will necessarily follow the establishment of world peace, its martial spirit must be expanded and intensified to just such a degree as the actual armaments are reduced."

Body Of Last Priestess Of Hawaiian Fire Goddess Is Discovered Near Hilo

(Reuter's Service)

Hilo, Island of Hawaii, Nov. 19.—The skeleton of a woman, believed to be that of the last of the priestesses of the Hawaiian fire-goddess Pele, whose traditional home was in the Kilauea volcano on this island, was found recently in a carefully prepared crypt not far from the smoking crater.

The tomb was found in the western sector of the main wall of the great outer crater of Kilauea, where once stood a great temple dedicated to Hiiake, the sister of the goddess Pele.

Nothing now remains of this temple. The last occasion upon which it appeared in history was when it was visited by the Princess Kapiolani in 1824, when the royal Hawaiian-Christian journeyed to the volcano for the purpose of uttering defiance to Pele. Local tradition says that the princess was met at the crater rim by a haggard priestess—the last of her line—who came from her abode in the ruined temple nearby and made one last attempt to over-awe the princess and to appeal to her fear of the super-natural.

The tomb believed to be that of the priestess was discovered immediately below the site of the temple. The position of the bones indicated that she had been buried in a sitting position, with her back propped against the wall, with her head placed so that her sightless eyes were in line with a small orifice immediately in front of her and in a direct line with the mile-distant fire pit of the volcano.

An Emperor's Gift

Among the thousands of beautiful objets d'art to be seen in the store of occasional goods is a magnificent gold and enamel watch set with small diamonds which was a gift from the late Tsar to a Russian princess. This beautiful trinket is made in the form of the lucky June bug with the tiny watchface, only a quarter-inch in diameter, concealed behind the wings of the insect. Necessity has brought this beautiful Bijou with its historic associations upon the market. We can offer it at the very low price of $650.00 and there are many other such bargains at

EARLY ACTION PROMISED ON BONUS MEASURE

(China Press Service)

Washington, Jan. 7.—A general agreement for the enactment of the soldier bonus bill early in the present session of Congress was reached at a White House dinner and conference of congressmen and members of the Cabinet.

It was understood that the plan contemplates the paying of the bonus from the receipts from the Allied debts to the United States. If this is insufficient, it may be tentatively succeeded by a sales tax. This plan may be supported by the Administration. However, all agreements are tentative.

Pearson Memorial Fund

SIR ARTHUR PEARSON MEMORIAL FUND

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS

Sir: In response to the cable from Lady Pearson recently received in Shanghai, it has been decided to organise a Shanghai Branch of the above fund. The following gentlemen have consented to serve on the Committee: Sir E. D. H. Fraser, K. C. M. G., Messrs. E. C. Pearce and E. F. Mackay, with Mr. O. M. Green as Hon. Treasurer and the undersigned as Hon. Secretary.

The late Sir Arthur Pearson's charitable activities on behalf of the blind are so well known that it is considered unnecessary to do more than outline the purposes for which the Memorial Fund is being organised, which are as follows:

3½% of the total will be allocated to the Fresh Air Fund, Sir Arthur Pearson's first charity, which sends children from the slums for a holiday in the country.

The allocation of the balance to be:

1-3rd to St. Dunstan's;

1-3rd to The National Institute for the Blind;

1-3rd to be divided among other recognised blind charities throughout the Empire.

In view of the long and close association of Shanghai with St. Dunstan's, some subscribers may possibly wish their donations to be entirely earmarked for that institution, in which event they are requested to state their wishes definitely at the time of making their donation. Failing any such indication from subscribers, the fund will be allocated on the lines noted above.

The Committee confidently appeals to the heads of hongs to assist in bringing the fund to the notice of the members of their Staffs, and with this object in view subscription lists are being printed, a copy of which will be forwarded to each hong. By this means it is hoped to give every resident an opportunity of paying practical homage to the name of one who devoted his life to the service of his afflicted fellowmen.

The subscription lists, when closed, should be forwarded to Mr. O. M. Green, care of The North China Daily News, who will acknowledge their receipt in the local press from time to time. Mr. Green will also be pleased to receive subscriptions direct from any residents who are not covered by the preceding proposal.

I am, etc.,
E. F. GOODALE,
Hon. Secretary.

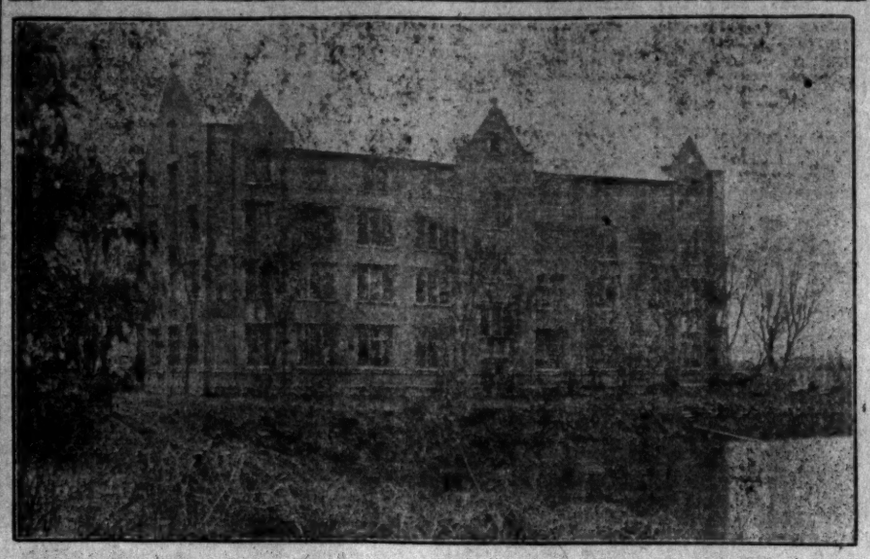
New Shanghai College Academy Building



The new Shanghai College academy building is 120 feet long and 46 feet wide and has rooms for 150 students, besides eight class rooms and an assembly hall. The money for this building, $60,000 Mexican, was the gift of one man, who will not let his name be known, and who has just made another donation of $50,000 gold for the new Woman's Building, as told in last Thursday's issue.

The above building is the first one of a group of buildings intended for the Middle School Department of Shanghai College. It now houses the two lowest classes only. The Southern Baptist Board has just provided funds for a duplicate of this building to be placed near it, so that the whole Middle School may be accommodated in this plant. Mr. Herman Liu, Ph. D., a graduate of the Education Department of the University of Chicago, a man of brilliant talents, has been offered the principalship of this Middle School.

Protestant Mission Board Completing Work In China

Since the middle of September there has been at work in China an Educational Commission, sent to China by the Foreign Missions Conference of North America and the similar body in Great Britain. These two bodies represent all the Protestant Foreign Mission Boards of these two countries.

In addition to the seven members sent from the United States, and one from Great Britain, ten members were appointed in China. Of these eighteen, twelve are Americans, three are British and three are Chinese—five are women. The members from China represent all parts of the country, from Peking to Canton and from Shanghai to Chengtu. Both the overseas and the China members are educators and educational administrators who represent a wide diversity of experience and interest, and, in grade of education, every phase from the elementary school to graduate university work.

The members of the Commission are: Professor Ernest D. Burton, of the University of Chicago; Bishop Francis J. McConnell, of Pittsburgh; President Kenyon L. Butterfield, of Massachusetts Agricultural College; Professor Percy M. Roxby, of the Union of Liverpool; Prof. Wm. E. Russel, Dean of the School of Education of Iowa University; President Mary E. Woolley, of Mt. Holyoke College, Mass.; Dr. Chang Po-ling, President of Nankai University, Tientsin; Dr. P. W. Kwo, President of Southeastern University, Nanking; Dr. J. Leighton Stuart, President of Peking University; Prof. H. B. Graybill, of Canton Christian College; Mrs. J. Lawrence Thurston, President of Ginling College, Nanking; Miss Yantsit Law of the True Light Medical School, Canton; Miss Clara Lambert, of Foochow; Prof. E. W. Wallace, of Chengtu; Miss Margaret B. Burton, of the National Board of the Y.W.C.A. New York; Dr. Frank W. Padelford, Executive Secretary of the Board of Education of the Northern Baptist Mission. Dr. Frank D. Gamewell and Dr. E. C. Lotenstine of Shanghai are ex-officio members. Mr. Amos Mathews is Secretary to the chairman.

After three weeks of work together in Peking, in the early Autumn, the Commission divided into two groups for purposes of field study, one group visiting Shansi, Honan, Hupeh, Hunan and several cities of the Lower Yangtsze, the other going to Shantung, thence via Shanghai to Hongkong, Canton, Swatow, Amoy and Foochow. Both groups have visited certain points adjacent to Shanghai, such as Nanking and Hangchow.

Most of the overseas members of the Commission will sail from Shanghai on January 25. "They are returning to their homes," says Dr. Burton, "with a greatly deepened sense of the devotion, unselfishness and ability of the missionary educators, of the immense possibilities for good wrapped up in their work, and inspired with the vision of the time—which they hope is not far off—when as a result of the whole Christian movement there shall be in China a Chinese Christian community characterised by physical health, financial strength, intelligence, high character, spiritual power. Such a community will always need the friendship of the Christians of other nations, but it will furnish its own leaders, its own financial resources, and it will take on its own shoulders the task of the Christianising of China. It is the creation of such a community which seems to the Commission the principal immediate objective of Christian education in China."

A.D.C. Play Tonight

Owing to inability to obtain the necessary guarantee of support in the short time available, the special performance of "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," which was to have been given by the A.D.C. tomorrow afternoon has been reluctantly abandoned.

In view of this it is probable that tonight's performance at the Lyceum will be the last presentation of this excellently enacted play. Booking is now open at Moutrie's and a few good seats are still available.

THE NEW MYSTERIOUS FACTOR-IN-FOOD.

Science discovers that thousands suffer from lack of one vital element in their food.

A CERTAIN mysterious element in food called VITAMINE! Science has established that our store of energy and even health itself depend upon it.

One of America's most eminent physiological chemists says: "Long continued—general debility follows the continued ingestion of food containing too little of this vitamine."

Primitive man secured an abundance of vitamine from his raw foods and green leafy vegetables. But modern diet, refined and modified, has often been deprived of much of the water-soluble vitamine. That is why so many seemingly well-fed people are slowly lowering their vitality from day to day without knowing it.

The richest source of the precious water-soluble vitamine is—yeast, just yeast!

To get enough of this vitamine so essential to health thousands are already eating Fleischmann's Yeast, and are finding new stores of health and energy, and a vigor unknown for years. Physicians and hospitals are prescribing it to stimulate the appetite, help digestion and gradually take the place of laxatives.

Eat Fleischmann's Yeast before or between meals—from 1 to 3 cakes a day. It has a rich creamcheesy consistency and distinctive flavor you will like. Nibble it from the cake or spread it with butter on crackers, toast or bread. Only one precaution: If troubled with gas, dissolve yeast first in boiling water.

Colds are mainly the result of a lowered Vitality. Fleisman's Yeast stimulates your resistance and helps digest the increased food which the appetite demands. The Bakerite Bakery, 36 Nanking Road, is using it in all their breads and beginning January 10, 1923, have arranged for the continued importation of it in cold storage and can supply it fresh in limited quantities.

NEW LACONIA REPLACES LINER SUNK IN WAR

Nearly ten years ago, on March 26, 1912 to be exact, the widely heralded Cunarder Laconia made her first voyage from Boston to Queenstown and Liverpool. Her construction represented a wide step forward and she gained a great popularity as the finest passenger liner sailing from Boston. The last sailing of the Laconia from Boston was in war time, on October 13, 1914, when she left the Cunard dock under the command of Captain Irvine. She was torpedoed off the Irish Coast on February 25, 1917.

The Cunard Line announces that a new and better Laconia, launched April 9, 1921, now nearing completion at the yards of Swan-Hunter and Wigham Richardson Ltd., at Newcastle-on-Tyne, England, is to be assigned to the Boston Queenstown Liverpool route, making her first voyage from Boston on May 3 next.

The new Laconia is of much the same length as her illustrious predecessor, but has greater breadth and is to be driven by steam turbines in the place of reciprocation engines.

The leading dimensions of the Laconia are: 623 feet, 9 inches extreme length; 73-1/2 feet moulded breath and 45 feet in depth to the shelter deck. The gross tonnage will be 21,000 and her sea speed 16 knots. She has a straight stem and elliptical stern and will be provided with two pole masts and one funnel. The economy of space permitted by the use of oil fuel makes unnecessary the extra funnels of the old time ship and results in greatly increased space for passenger accommodation, an improvement directly reflected in the spaciousness of her public rooms and commodious staterooms. The Laconia is one of four new sister ships, the other three being the Scythia, Samaria, and Franconia, whose names recall famous Cunard ships of the past and include the favorite Franconia which distinguished herself in war service.

The Rowing Club fives, the Strokeside and the Bowside won in their matches last night over Fearon, Daniel Co. and the Shanghai American School respectively, by scores of 32-11 and 28-10.

The match between the School and the Bowside was good during the first half when the schoolboys held their husky opponents to a 12-10 score. In the second period however play roughened up too much and the youngsters were blanked.

Gattrell, Hale and Heinzerling played the best basketball for the winners. Atkinson was helping a lot from the rear, but couldn't get into the scoring. Smith as usual played his hard game but some of it was quite too hard for the boy opponents. The School played even up all around. Squires got two baskets and Parker, Chase and Waters one each.

The Strokeside played a nice game, not being able to get ahead of the Hong five however until well into the second half. Patzlaff, Dennison and Kay broke up much of the offensive so that at half time the score was held at Club 8, Fearon Daniels 7. Neprud's dash was noticeably absent. The rangy center is still tied up after the American football match. Goldman and Johnson starred for the Club with the two Nashs and Barrett doing their bits to good advantage.

Scores:

Bowside 28,		Am'n School 10
Heinzerling	lf	Wiens
Hale	rf	Parker
Smith	c	Squires
Atkinson	lg	Chase
Gattrell	rg	Waters

Goals from floor—Parker 1, Squires 2, Chase 1, Waters 1, Heinzerling 5, Hale 3, Smith 1, Gattrell 5.

Referee—Mr. Maloney.

Goals from fouls—H. Nash 1, Goldman 1, Sheldon 1.

Referee—Mr. Nelson.

Only one game is scheduled for tonight, that between the Y. M. C. A. team and the American Trading five on the "Y" floor.

Inter-School 2nd Soccer Round To Open This Week

The second round in the Inter-School Football Leagues will be opened this week when the St. Francis Xavier's College meet Senior, Junior and Midget teams from the Thomas Hanbury School, while the Public School will be opposed to the American School.

The results of the opening matches in the Easter term are always the more uncertain as teams have to be re-organised owing to boys leaving School at Christmas. In most cases the end of the School year. Excitement is therefore running high among the boys as to the possibility of maintaining or improving their present positions.

Last year's cup winners in each League still maintain their hold on the cup, but the St. Francis Xavier's College are challenging the Public School's supremacy in the Senior League, while the Thomas Hanbury School is practically level with the St. Francis Xavier's College in the Junior League. The Public School Midgets seem to have been goal-hunting and are indicating very decidedly that they mean to do their best to retain the cup which they won last year.

The League positions up to date are:

SENIORS

	A	W	D	L	F	A	Pts.
S.P.S.	3	3	0	0	19	2	6
S.F.X.	3	2	0	1	10	4	4

LITTLE BODIES AND BIG PAINS.

TEETHING WITHOUT TEARS THROUGH BABY'S OWN TABLETS.

The misery and pain that many babies suffer through teething time is expressed eloquently enough in fits of pitiful crying, fever, refusal of food, and diarrhoea—or perhaps stipation. Baby's Own Tablets—guaranteed to contain no opiates and to be perfectly harmless—act like magic, relieve pain, comfort baby and give rest to the mother, while teething progresses without tears.

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are safe and pleasant for the youngest infant and the growing child. Besides being so helpful during the teething period they remove constipation, allay feverishness, cure colic, indigestion and worms.

Obtainable from chemists, also at 60 cents the vial, post free from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

Spence's Four Wins Light Horse Sectional Race

The Inter-section race of the Light Horse Unit was won by Lieut. Spence's section, Sunday.

The winning section comprised the following: Lieut. Spence, Troopers David, Pinkerton and Eastwood.

The course started at the corner of Warren and Hungjao Roads, and was laid over Artery Creek Platform, across Corinth, Family Tree, Westward Ho Platform, Suez, and finished at Warren Line.

After the contest, Mrs. E. H. McMichael distributed the cups to the winners, the cups being presented for the competition by Major A. V. Monk, M. C.

B.A.T. Beat Police 8 Up And 7 To Play

The final golf match in the Hong Foursomes played by the British-American Tobacco Company and the Municipal Police at the Kiangwan Links Sunday resulted in the win for the former 8 up and 7 to play. Capt. E. I. M. Barrett and M. J. Martin represented the police and Messrs. C. S. Peacock and J. B. Ferrier played for the winning side. The B. A. T. received three strokes in each round. The match was for 16 holes.

Reeves Highest Shot In Maritime Co.

The Maritime Co. held their Monthly Competition Saturday in glorious weather. The attendance was very poor, only 25% of the strength being present.

The condition for the competition were Practices 12, 13 and 14 of the Musketry Course.

Sgt. Reeves made a possible at Practice 12.

The results were as follows:

A1 Class—Sgt. Reeves, winner of spoon and 3rd leg on cup.

A Class—Gnr. Berthet, winner of spoon and 1st leg on cup.

B Class—Gnr. Sanches, winner of spoon and 1st leg on cup.

A "sweep" was also held concurrently with the shoot, practices 12 and 13 to count, with three prizes of sweep.

A1 Class Sgt. Reeves., A Class. Gnr. Berthet, B Class. Gnr. Maitland.

Concert Tonight

The symphony concert program played by the public band at the Town Hall on Sunday and so thoroughly enjoyed by a full attendance will be repeated this evening at 9 o'clock. A per capita charge of 50 cents will be made.

Star Chinese Ball Team May Play In Shanghai In Spring

A team of Chinese baseball players most of whom have never seen China may be brought here this spring from Hawaii to play exhibitions with local Chinese teams, with the Shanghai Baseball Club and with any other nine that is willing. Their manager is already putting out "feeler" letters asking whether or not the matches may be arranged.

The team is composed of Chinese born and reared in Honolulu. But few of the players have ever visited China. They are making a Far Eastern trip early this spring, touring Japan and the Philippines, and wish also to play in what they still term their "Fatherland." Their manager hopes to play either in Shanghai or Tientsin.

The Chinese team will carry fifteen men. They expect to reach Manila in February, and to tour Japan during March and early April. They are rated with the best of the Hawiian teams. Many of their men have played in America, and a few accompanied the last Chinese Hawaiian team that toured the Far East in 1915 when Manila and Shanghai were visited.

Ilbert Wins B. I. R. Shoot

The St. Dunstan's cup and the January cup competitions of the British Infantry Reserves went to Private Ilbert Sunday when with a high total of 54 he scored his second leg on both trophies. The matches were shot concurrently.

About fifty percent of the unit turned out for the shooting. Thirty one members competed. The company drill followed the competitions. Scores follow:

INTERPORT GOLF TEAM SAILS FOR HONGKONG TODAY

Five Of Best Local Players Leave On Empress Of Japan

PLAY BIG MATCH JAN. 18

May Also Meet Services Team In Preliminary Friendly On Monday

Five members of the Shanghai Golf Club, Mr. J. B. Ferrier, Captain E. I. M. Barrett, and Messrs. C. T. Beith, P. Peebles and K. M. Cumming leave for Hongkong today on the Empress of Japan to have one more try on the difficult links at Fanling for the Interport challenge cup. The Shanghai team arrives in the Southern port Thursday, and will go into the interport match Wednesday, Jan. 18.

Conditions for the match provide that but five men shall play, with only the best three scores of each team to count for the competition. It is possible also that the big match will be preceded by a special friendly game between Shanghai and the Services team on the 16th. Hongkong has asked for the match, and Shanghai may accept.

The Hongkong team has not yet been announced. A committee of three upon last advice was appointed to select the Interport team. Several names have been mentioned, including R. M. Smith, the Fanling champion; H. R. Buckland, and A. B. Stewart, Major Bagnall, Capt. T. W. Hill, Major Leslie-Smith and Messrs. Ferguson and Morgan.

COMMUNICATIONS BANK BEGINS TO REDEEM NOTES

(Chung Mei News Agency)

Peking, Jan. 6.—The vaults of the Bank of Communications were yesterday opened to public inspection in order to convince people of the sincerity of the bank in announcing complete redemption of its notes and to prove that it had the specie to make possible these payments. Complete payment of all notes presented started today.

The bank's vaults were inspected by representatives of various political, commercial, and other circles and showed a total of $3,160,000 of which $2,732,000 is in the form of silver dollars. The Tientsin bank was also open to investigation and its resources inspected in the same way. The assets include money deposited with local banks to $3,628,827. The resources of the two banks will exceed the total note issue and are more than ample for the redemption of all outstanding notes. A statement to this effect was signed by representatives of the various organs that have inspected the banks.

OBJECTIONS

To answer the "can't afford it" objection: "Mr. Prospect, suppose your coal should cost you $12.00 a ton more this winter than you had expected. You would find a way to pay for it, because you wouldn't let your family freeze to death. So buy this insurance and charge it up to your coal. You can't tell—it may keep your family in coal sometime."

Japan's Futile Explanation

EVER since Allied Intervention in Siberia was hatched in 1917, Japan has unfailingly and repeatedly dished up her stereotyped declaration to the world "that Japan has no desire but the hope that the Russians will cease internal strife and that peace and order will be re-established in Far Eastern Russia as soon as possible so that Japan may withdraw her troops with a sense of relief"—this as a diplomatic subterfuge to explain away her "armed occupation" of Russian Far Eastern territory and, it can be said with all certainty, all the Powers, even those not interested in the world's pastimes of yesterday, such as peaceful penetration, territorial annexation, spheres of influence, etc., etc., are pretty sick of having to continue to swallow such trash.

The publication of documents purporting to reveal the Franco-Japanese agreement on Siberia by the delegation of the Far Eastern Republic at Washington has suddenly whetted the political appetite of the world and it was anticipated in view of Admiral Kato's confession that Japan had been materially supporting Ataman Semenov, the world would be served up with something more appetising than that which it had been forced to digest for the past four years. However, the official communique of the Tokio Foreign Office dated January 8, made public yesterday completely ignores the delicacy of modern taste and tells the world with the same callous and unblushing naivete that "what the Japanese Army in Vladivostok has done is that, complying with the request of the local consular body, it has handed the minimum supply of arms to the local administration etc. etc."

"If this is all that Japan has done, how can it be explained that since the date of the "coup d'etat" on the 26th of May, when Japan placed Merkulov and Co. in power, considerably over 9,000 rifles were placed in the hands of the reactionaries just prior to the commencement of the military drive north, about a month ago. Where did these rifles come from? Only Japan can answer this question for it was and still is a physical impossibility to smuggle any arms into the Pri-Maritime Province without the sanction and connivance of Japan as the little ruse that was pulled off by the Merkulov Government against the Czech Consul through Colonel Butenko proved beyond all manner of doubt.

It is a good thing for the world that the Czech Consul at Vladivostok, Doctor Pavlick, is an authority on international law; otherwise the Czecho-Slovak Government would have been accused of having supplied all these 9,000 rifles, etc. Being foiled and hoist by their own petard, the Merkulovs, unable to find a man of straw among the Consuln, selected a certain Mr. Korobetz as the victim. He was shot at the same time that Mr. Tseitlin met his death and the charge was that he had smuggled arms into Siberia to supply the Bolsheviki. This is how the presence of arms in the Pri-Maritime Province is explained away and of course "Japan is blamed by the Merkulov Government at present for refusing to grant warlike implements."

Today, Japan betrays the world's intentions.

The Japanese Foreign Office communique referred to above energetically answers the various Russian allegations, including the rumors that Japan backed the "White Army" in Far Eastern Russia in May last year, as also recently, owing to the latest success of the Whites. These rumors, the communique asserts, are "utterly without foundation."

In the New York World dated November 23, 1921 an interview is published with Mr. C. H. Smith, who was the principal American member of the Inter-Allied Railway Commission in Siberia from February 1919 to July 1921 and who went straight to Washington supported with official documents. Referring to the "coup d'etat" of 26th May last year this official states: "The coup d'etat of May was engineered by the Japanese. When the Japanese were sure that the Russian authorities had no extra arms, the Semenov and Kappel forces were permitted make an attempt. They shamelessly aided the Russian reactionaries whom they wished to be in power."

Continuing further Mr. Smith states: "At the present time the only hindrance to the work of reconstruction in Siberia is the presence of the Japanese. Remove this incubus, and the Russians will not be handicapped by having to support their present army." In face of these conflicting reports, one is confronted with the question: Is the world to be permitted to continue believing Japanese propaganda and can Humanity stand aside and watch Russians being butchered simply for Japan's gain? The answer is not far to seek. Let every civilised nation on the face of the earth demand that the Japanese Army, which has terrorised the Russian Far East for four long years, be withdrawn immediately and let the world see what the consequences will be. The other great nations saw the point two years ago.

Foch As Man Of Action

Marshal Foch is one of the few conspicuous military leaders of the World War whose fame, as a man and as a commander, may be said to have been enhanced by the many "now-it-can-be-told" books which have been published since the armistice.

The purpose of Captain Peter E. Wright's volume, "At the Supreme War Council," might be described as an effort to dispel for all time most of the halos which public opinion has painted around the heads of the allied commanders-in-chief. At any rate no one has said that Captain Wright's experiences as an Assistant Secretary of the Supreme War Council made him write in a reverent mood about the great military chieftains. And yet he bestows almost unmeasured praise upon Foch.

"Foch, when he came to Versailles," writes Captain Wright, "was an old man, unwell and worn with anxiety, and beginning to lose his trim horseman's figure. He shone in debate as much as he did in action. In his profound grasp of any question; in his capacity for dealing at once, and conclusively, with any opposite point which he rejected; in the skill with which he exposed the fallacy of an unsound argument; in the flexible readiness with which he adapted his attitude to any contrary idea he felt unable to refute; in the facility and rapidity with which he evolved schemes to reach a common agreement; in the closely woven and orderly logic of its thought; in the rapid, almost exuberant, flow of his speech; in the flashing power of illustrating his meaning; in his ruthless contempt for weaker dialecticians, in all these he resembled a great Chancery special.

"In the simplicity of his ways—he had not even an A. D. C., and he used to arrive alone, his papers under his arm, an absence of ceremony astonishing to any one accustomed to the pomp that surrounds even a brigadier—in the roughness of his ways, a strong contrast to the gentlemanly English, and grand manner of the Italians; in his extreme piety; in all these he was like a rustic French cure, redolent of the soil, the true soil of France, the soil of peasants and soldiers, descendants of those who accomplished the Gesta Dei per Francos, very different from the glittering foam of Paris. In sheer intellect, he towered above every one at the Supreme War Council as much as Mr. Lloyd George did in courage."

In another place Captain Wright applies to Foch the following quotation from the first volume of "Thucydides":

"He gave proof of a power and a penetration that was natural, wonderful and infallible. When any crisis arose, however little he expected it, and without any examination; a view of the situation, far superior to that of any one else, sprang from his at once, and he predicted the subsequent course of events with no less certainty. His exposition of his own plans was most lucid, his criticism of other men's schemes consummate, and, however incalculable the result seem, he always knew what would succeed and what would not. In a word, uniting the deepest intellectual grasp with a lightning rapidity of decision, he was the model man of action."

"Hair tonic has become a favorite beverage in Washington."—Vide Press.

By Bernard Shaw: "The Notion That Disarmament Can Put A Stop To War Is Contradicted By The Nearest Dog Fight"

"If Limitation of Armaments Were Agreed To at Washington, the Covenant Would Be Broken in the Next War So Entirely as a Matter of Course that the First Combatant To Tear It Up Would Not Dream of Apologising."

BY GEORGE BERNARD SHAW

Disarmament is such a popular cry when the "Cease Fire" having sounded, the period of glory is succeeded by the period of paying for it, that the United States Government, greatly to its credit, has asked the public to stop that nonsense and make up its mind to expect nothing more than a limitation of armaments.

Yet I see in every newspaper the heading, Disarmament Conference, and in all the editorial columns the old pieties about peace and good will and beating machine guns into ploughshares and so forth. People find their pieties necessary to their souls.

Before the war, when I met the disarmament agitation by saying, "Don't disarm; treble your armament; you may need it presently," people said, "There you go again, contradicting everyone! Standing on your head, as usual."

In November, 1914, when, in my Common Sense About the War, that intolerable document which afterwards turned out to be so exasperatingly right in every detail, I said, "After this, nobody is going to disarm," the very people who were then clamoring very wisely for "above all, more shells," looked sorely at me, as who would say, "Why can't you hold your silly tongue?"

'THINKABLE WARS WILL END'

Arming is one of the things you should do without saying anything about it; and if you ask a gentleman why he has a magazine rifle slung across his back and a Lewis gun under his arm, he feels bound to answer cheerfully, "Oh, I thought I might put up a covey of partridges in Jones' field, and it's always well to be prepared."

When Bismarck said that balance of power questions have to be settled, not by an interchange of Christmas texts, but by blood and iron, he was stating the simplest and most obvious of facts; but he made a very unpleasant impression, which the rest of us avoided by declaring that war with Germany was unthinkable. This was quite true; all wars are unthinkable; but they occur, nevertheless.

The moment they become thinkable we shall begin to think about them, and then they will not happen.

Therefore the announcement that a war between the United States and the British Empire is unthinkable is so alarming that I am doing my best to rescue it from that dangerous category; for it certainly will not bear thinking about, though it will bear ten Washington conferences quite easily.

The notion that disarmament can put a stop to war is contradicted by the nearest dog fight. The story of Cain and Abel has been questioned by many Ingersollians, but never on the ground that Cain had no armament. Nelson never saw an armor plate, nor Napoleon a magazine rifle, but they got through a good deal of fighting without them.

If Mr. Dempsey were carrying a cane, and were attacked by a rash bystander, he would promptly throw away the cane and defend himself with his fists.

It is the man who fights; not the weapon. Also the woman.

That elementary point being settled, we may now come to the question it suggests, which is, does disarmament then matter? If men are determined to fight, had they better not do it scientifically, with poison gas, than batter and tear one another to death like wild beasts?

There is nothing so horrible to see as a fight between men who do not know how to fight; and this is as true of savage and civilised warfare as it is of a street fight and a boxing match for the heavyweight championship.

There is, therefore, no more likelihood of the great fighting Powers consenting to a limitation of destructive methods at Washington now than at The Hague before the war. There is no reason why they should.

The introduction of poison gas in Flanders by the Germans was not more slaughterous in effect, not more fiendish in its departure from the previous usages of civilised warfare than the substitution of plebeian British bowmen on foot for charging knights and gentlemen on horseback at Poitiers and Caecy and Agincourt. Indeed, the impression of an utterly ungentlemanly departure from the traditions of chivalry was far greater.

The French, slain in incredible thousands by hundreds of mere yeomen, had at least the satisfaction of despising the English kings as unthinkable cads, whose spurs should have been torn from their heels by all the heralds of Christendom. But their protests made no difference.

War was the sport of kings; but it was also a business, and business is always business.

In war you are out to kill and to avoid being killed; and it is idle to suppose that any method of doing either will not be exploited to the utmost. When you have made it possible to say to a huge country, as was said of Poland in the late war, that there is no child under seven years of age left alive in it, you are not likely to feel very sentimental about laying out a hardy soldier with mustard gas.

There is not the slightest chance of any limitation of armaments in that sense being agreed to at Washington; and, if it were, the covenant would be broken in the next war so entirely as a matter of course that the first combatant to tear it up would not dream of eevn apologising. And so no more time need be wasted on that part of the problem.

In spite of all this, I do not see why the conference should not agree to disarmament and limitation on a scale that will surprise and delight all the gentle and innocent souls in the world.

Why, for instance, should not the United States, the British Empire and Japan set a noble example to the nations by agreeing to build no more battleships; nay, even to sink those they already have. That would be a magnificent gesture, and a most popular one. I shall not be at all surprised if it actually takes place.

And the conclusion I shall draw is that battleships are as obsolete as Henry the Eight's Royal Harry, and that the submarine and the battleplane are what the Admiralties will fight with in the future.

Further, what would war be without its whiskered Pandours and its fierce hussars? Well, in spite of Lord Haig, the powers may offer to abolish the fierce hussars. The reduction of all the cavalry establishments of the great powers would seem a sovereign mercy. But the initiated would only wink, and whisper; "The warhorse is obsolete; they are going in for tanks."

"One leads where many follow."
Hall's Distemper has led the way to a new era in house decoration—the era of brighter, cleaner and healthier homes.
It is the most durable of all decorations, lasting for years with freshness unimpaired, whereas wall-papers deteriorate from the first day by fading and accumulating dust and dirt.
Hall's Distemper is a thorough disinfectant, and is applied directly upon the wall, forming a hard surface, from which dust and dirt may be "spring-cleaned" by lightly sponging with warm water.
Hall's Distemper (Registered Trade Mark) is a unique preparation and has the recommendation of leading sanitary authorities, architects, and decorators everywhere.

College And School Notes

ELIZA YATES SCHOOL

The fall term of Eliza Yates School will close January 20 for the Chinese New Year holidays. School will reopen for the Spring term's work on February 10. The examination of pupils will be held February 10, beginning at nine o'clock, but only a small number can be received because of limited space both in dormitories and class rooms.

During the past term Miss Mina Garrett, a graduate of Baylor University, has joined the faculty and taken charge of the Science Department. Some improvements have been made in this department. A fairly complete equipment has been installed for High School chemistry. Plans are also being made to secure equipment for biology, before the fall term opens.

The purchase has recently been made of a tract of twenty-three mow of land adjoining the school campus, a part of which will be available for use in the future development and enlargement of the school.

Dr. T. B. Ray, of Richmond, Virginia, a secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention who is on a visit to various mission fields of the East is in Shanghai for a brief stay. During the week beginning January 8 he and members of the Central China Mission will come together in a conference to discuss future plans, buildings, and equipment for the school, as well as other matters pertaining to the general work of the Central China Mission.

Among the visitors of last week has been Mrs. Laurence Thurston, President of Gin Ling College who made an interesting and inspiring talk to the school.

On Thursday, January 19, at four o'clock the pupils of Mrs. Fuller's music class will give a students' recital in Price Memorial Hall.

One of the features of the school is the annual Christmas entertainment given in English by the High School students. These performances have grown out naturally from their school work. This year they are producing, for the second time, Dickens' "Christmas Carol" which will be followed by a short farce "Box and Cox." This will be given by three girls of the third year High School. The caste of the "Christmas Carol" comprises fourteen of the fourth year and six of the third year girls. The play will be interspersed with carols sung at the window of "Scrooge's" office. There will be two performances, one on Friday, January 13, beginning at 7 p.m. and the second on Saturday, January 14, beginning at 4:30. Entrance to both is free, and all who are interested in seeing what educated Chinese girls can do along these lines will be heartily welcome.

SOOCHOW UNIVERSITY

On the evening of January 2 in the Methodist Church at Huchow, Soochow University band gave a public concert before a large and appreciative audience. The Band included eighteen instruments played by the University students under the direction of Bandmaster Tai I-ching. The program consisted of seven selections by the band, interspersed with solos, vocal and instrumental, instrumental duet, and male quarttte.

The band gave what was pronounced by musical critics present as really splendid music. Much credit is due the bandmaster for his careful and thorough instruction and to the members of the band for the great improvement they have made in the last year. The band was assisted by Prof. Chao of the Soochow Language School Faculty. Mr. D. L. Sherertz of the University faculty went with the band on the trip and acted as accompanist to the soloists. The tenor solos sung by Mr. T. C. Chi, a student from Korea, were greeted with hearty applause. The contributions of Mr. R. N. Lee to the program—flute solo, part in the flute-cornet duet, first bass in the male quartette, and exhibition of Indian Clubs—were much appreciated.

ST. JOHN'S UNIVERSITY

The Christmas entertainment of St. John's was held in Alumni Hall at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Saturday, December 24, 1921. The program consisted of Magic by Z. T. Kwauk, an Alumnus, and motion pictures. Singing about the Christmas tree by the students of St. John's and St. Mary's took place at 6 o'clock in the evening, the Christmas feast at 7 o'clock and a Baptismal service was held in the Cathedral at 8.

The Ningpo Club held a social meeting in the social room at 5:00 p.m., January 6, 1922. After the election of new officers for the next term tea was served.

The third meeting of the University Christian Association was held in the Middle School dining hall at 8:00 p.m. Friday evening January 6. Mr. Fred B. Smith, lay reader of note and vice-president of the Johns-Manville Company, of New York, gave an inspiring speech on the subject of Christian Morality.

The Seniors and Juniors have for several years past been enjoying the privilege of the Honor System during tests and final examinations. When any case arose under it, it was tried by the faculty committee. Through the initiative of the faculty and sense of responsibility of the students, a reform measure has been adopted recently. Under a joint meeting of the Seniors and Juniors an Honor Committee composed of five members was elected from the Senior and Junior classes, and the fifth member by the elected four. Mr. S. T. Chao, a member of senior class, is the Chairman of the Honor Committee. Hereafter, any case is to be tried by this Honor Committee, the decision of which is final.

SOUTHEASTERN UNIVERSITY

The corner stone of the new gymnasium was laid on Jan. 4. Tuchun Chi of Kiangsu wrote the words inscribed on the stone. At the same time the corner stone of the library was laid, Civil Governor Wang of Kiangsu having written the words for that stone. Many officials and other educational institutions were invited to attend the celebration and laying of the stones.

Mr. Hau Yoo, a student of the university, won the first title in the speaking contest of all-Kiangsu schools held in Yangchow last of the past year.

The alumni of the former Nanking Teachers' College arranged a dinner party on Jan. 4, in the agricultural hall, all members of the Board of Trustee of the new university being invited to the party.

A fine concert was held last Friday night in the Auditorium for the New Year celebration, and over a thousand spectators were drawn into the hall. It was a combination of Chinese and foreign music and plays, and was a very successful performance.

FRENCH-CHINESE INSTITUTE

Eight boxes of new machinery have been deliveried to the college from France, coming on the s.s. Porthos. It will be installed soon.

English will be added to the department of Industry, whereas now only the commercial students have this course. Beginning next spring, English will be treated as a unit having the same importance as other subjects for the needs of the industrial world.

NANYANG COLLEGE

After winning the game from Shanghai College, the students celebrated the victory as well as the New Year with a demonstration on the campus.

On last Thursday night the Nanyang Students' Association held New Year's Entertainment and members of the faculty and students were all present.

Mr. Robertson of the City Y. M. C. A. lectured to the college Y. M. C. A. on December 30, on the subject "Edison's Life and Work." He also showed some slides and a reel of film illustrating Edison's invention of the incandescent lamp.

CHINA ACADEMY

The sophomore class of the China Academy, Woosung, made an inspection trip to the Chinese-American Bank of Commerce under the leadership of Mr. C. K. Chiu, instructor of the business course and also head of the accounting department of the bank.

A "People's Co-operative Bank" is to be started at Woosung for the benefit of the students and the workmen there and to encourage thrift. This will also serve as practical work for the banking department students of the academy.

Havana Cigars

We are really much satisfied the way the Havana smokers have patronised us and particularly during the last few weeks, there came a big gap in our well assorted stock. However we are still in a position to supply

Practically Every Want

The foregoing shows us that our different brands find favour, and further, the truth of our argument that our Havana Cigars are for every taste and every purse.

All the superb temperament, grace and majesty of this diva of grand opera are registered in the character of Concha Perez, dancer of Seville, who will neither sell nor give her kisses.

A gripping romance written by Pierre Louys and Pierre Frondaie, authors of dramatic sensation "Aphrodite".
